THE TOTEM

1936

Theme: Music

"Real music is the voice of God,
Mind's symphony complete;
Ideas are notes, and each one floats
To Eternity's rhythmic beat."

VOLUME XVI

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF PORTLAND HIGH SCHOOL
PORTLAND, MAINE

FOREWORD

Music is the manner in which a musician expresses his thoughts. Just as Virgil, the great epic poet of old, expressed his emotions by changing the meter of a line, so the musician interprets his feelings by the addition of an eighth note or by the proper insertion of a rest. Thus our yearbook, containing not only the interpretation of our school life, but also the labor of the student body, not in printing alone but in picture, may truly be adjudged a musical composition as we present it to you – a harmonious whole.

For the seniors the symphony has been finished. There is no way of erasing what has already been composed during the past four years; no means of beginning the melody again, and all too swiftly the memories of these four years will be wafted away on the wings of forgetfulness. But here is the score—the happy memories of our high school days preserved for us, as they can be nowhere else, in our TOTEM.

Freshman, sophomore, junior, senior—all have taken part in the composition of this volume. To the freshman it is the opening strain of a great work; to the senior it is the last few measures. In the days to come, the memory of the harmonious years spent at Portland High School will be brought back to us as we turn the pages of this our musical composition and read the careful efforts of our fellow composers.

It may be only an eighth note or it may be a whole measure that each individual has contributed to the productions of this symphony. Large or small as our contribution may be, we may well be proud of it. As each note or measure has its part in the success of the composition, so the work of each student represents his individual contribution to the entire yearbook, and we place in your hands – your TOTEM.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The record of the Class of 1939 stands out as an example of achievement, service, and enthusiasm. An enviable scholastic standing, coupled with excellent extra–curricular prowess, has given the class a lead start. That this class performed inestimable service in the shaping of the 1935 Blue Bulldogs is attested by the fact that over thirty Freshman boys answered the Fall summons to the gridiron. Most outstanding was "Tony" Peverada, the only Freshman to gain a permanent post on the varsity. Track season found many of these '39ers in togs, and Edmund Mrowka and Edward Montgomery won their varsity letters. The girls, also, have distinguished themselves in athletics. Over fifteen lassies reported for basketball, two of them winning places on the varsity sextette. Nine Freshman girls reported for practice on the newly-formed girls' tennis team, and the ever-popular pastime of field hockey uncovered many bright prospects.

Along scholastic lines, this class has taken no back seat. Each quarter has found a large number of Freshman on the Honor Roll. The Classical Forum's membership was swelled by fifty-two. Margaret Crozier, Dorothy Moran, John Jaques, and Robert Hay represented their class on the Junior Red Cross Council. Anne Folsom and Edith Palmer were members of the debating team.

This year's sophomore class will go down in history not only as most brilliant, but also as one of the most aggressive classes of the school, for its members are especially prominent in athletics. In the fall, Emilio D'Arcangelo, Robert Seymour, Walter Quinn, Norman Vance, and Emilio Sangillo were active on the football team. The 1936 championship basketball team included Walter Quinn, winner of the George H. Vinal Cup, James Markley, and Richard Carson. Warren Blake, second state champion of the 50-yard dash and one of the best sprinters in the state, helped win victories for our unbeaten natators. Track letter winners were Robert Seymour, Donald Rich, William Fossett, and Chester Dubowik, and the baseball call was answered by Norman Vance, Robert Seymour, and Emilio D'Arcangelo, of football fame.

In the spirit of service Betty Honan, Gladys Bickmore, Staton Curtis, and Sidney Cox have continued their work on the Red Cross Committee. The girls' basketball team saw Dorothy Walp, Mary Connolly, Anna Cayio, Marilyn Morris, and Catherine Greely in its most active ranks, and on the swimming team were Barbara Currier, Rachel Knowles, Beatrice Lucas, Dorothy McLewin and Annie Libby. Three sophomores—Thelma Higgins, Dorothy Walp, and Linwood Pinansky, were official cheerleaders. Robert Robinson, Marilyn Morris, and Warren Webster were out for debating, and the drum and bugle corps and band included Robert Cleaves, David Kelsey, James Greely, Irving Woolf, Owen Durgin, and Melvin Finkelstein. A class so active is thus well prepared for the Junior year.

JUNIOR CLASS

But three short years ago, over five hundred hopeful freshmen crossed the threshold of Portland High School with many a lofty ambition and not a little trepidation. Since that memorable occasion, the class of 1937 has had marked success in all phases of extra-curricular activity as well as in scholastic attainment.

Athletic prowess in all branches has been consistently displayed by representatives of the Junior class. The dogged determination and flaming spirit of chunky Joe Richio, the educated toe of Johnny Moffett, and the ever sturdy line play of Bernard Shatz, contributed in large degree to the success of Bob Bowie's initial season as mentor of the Blue gridmen.

Finest of the spectacularly successful basketball cluster of 1936 was Pete Colello. Working from a forward berth, Pete constantly out-played and out-fought opponents who were, physically speaking, far superior. Another junior basketeer, Don Drossel, displayed fine form throughout the season and will provide Colello with an excellent running mate for next year's campaign.

A galaxy of brilliant junior trackmen will form the backbone of next year's combine. Charles Chapman, William Glen, Veranus Cole, Philip Cummings, and Robert Kilbride were especially outstanding in the junior division. The intermediates boasted Don Bryenton, accomplished low hurdler; Milford Cohen, hard running 300-yard sprinter; and David Dickson, veteran 600 and 440 strider. In the senior division, James Samuel, fleet sprinter, and Durwood Brewer, smooth running distance man, wore the junior colors. Roger Dunbar, brilliant backstroker, proved a mainstay of the championship swimming team, while Louis

Wilkins displayed his wares as a freestyler and relay man. Early baseball practices have indicated that Drossel, Keough, Moffett, and Richio are likly to see considerable varsity service.

Nor were the Didricksons and Madisons of the class of 1937 overshadowed to any extent by the splendid athletic records compiled by the boys. Ellen Zukunft, keen-eyed forward, Dorothea French, capable center, and Constance Furbush, stellar guard, were all singularly successful on the basketball court. Other Junior girls likely to break into the basketball limelight in another year are Dot Gooch, Anne Norton, and Jean Hastings. The Blue mermaids had a trio of sure point gatherers in Eleanor Larkin, Ruth Fairbanks, and Ruth Eliot.

With such excellent speakers as Muriel Googins, Esther Woolf, and David Dickson returning to the oratorical wars for another year, Coach J. Weston Walch should have little difficulty in molding a formidable debating team in 1937. Several Juniors displayed a penchant for theatrics and Elizabeth Lagdon and Helen Libbey were chosen vice-president and secretary, respectively, of the Dramatic Club.

One of the most serviceable and at the same time most unheralded extra-curricular groups, the Red Cross Council, includes in its membership four outstanding Juniors: Pauline Cushing, Rita Luja, Junior Class President Roger Dunbar, and Clyde Crockett. Juniors were well represented in all musical organizations, and one of their members, Arlene Leavitt, acted as Glee Club accompanist. So the Juniors stand ready, willing, and eager to take up Senior duties, having served a most worthy apprenticeship for three long but happy years.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As members of the class of 1936 look back over their four years at Portland High School, they find that many of their richest experiences have come through participation in extra-curricular activities. Some have specialized in only one of the many activities offered; others have taken part in three or four. Among the organizations that offer profitable pleasure to large numbers of students are the musical groups: the glee clubs, the orchestra, and the band.

How large a part music plays in the school life might better be realized if all our music were suddenly snatched away from us. Imagine a school dance without song, or a graduation without choruses and solos. How much would be lost from our assemblies if we could not enter the hall to the stirring notes of band or orchestra! For the past two years the glee clubs under the direction of Miss Chase have presented a Christmas pageant. This has won such high praise that it is now accepted as an annual feature on the school program. With simple dignity the Christmas story is told through reading and tableaux, but it would lose much of its effectiveness were it not for the singing parts and the Carols of the chorus.

Probably we do not fully realize how much the school owes to these musical organizations, but the members themselves do not complain. They feel that they receive far more than they give. Coöperating in these informal groups, students are brought closely together and friendships are formed that would never have resulted from mere classroom attendance. It is through music, also, that many individuals receive recognition that would not come to them in any other way. Music has a place on nearly every program of such organizations as the Classical Forum, German, and French clubs. Students talented in music are constantly being called upon to supply solos or instrumental selections. As a result, they find themselves lifted out of the crowd and numbered among the outstanding pupils of the school.

Many of us regret our inability to play an instrument or appear as a soloist, but music has something to offer the untalented many as well as the talented few. Nearly everybody likes to sing and does sing in some fashion, if only to express his feelings. There is always a wave of enthusiasm at an assembly when the whole school joins in singing "Wearers of the Blue" or is led in the singing of some popular melody. We also are familiar with the melodies of several classical or semi-classical compositions. To hear these selections that have stood the test of time sung by two thousand voices would certainly be something to look forward to; to have a part in the singing, would be an experience to cherish long after we have graduated from Portland High and are remembering "Auld Lang Syne."

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

This year Portland High School Seniors may well go to the head of the class as exponents of the dramatic art. We are referring, of course, to that ably presented and greatly amusing performance—the Senior Class Play, entitled, "Seven Chances." This presentation was an extremely modern and hilarious comedy, the plot of which, although somewhat involved, unfolded rapidly, disclosing to its interested and receptive audience one entertaining situation after another.

The hero of the play, James Shannon, has just become heir to twelve million dollars, but to receive this huge sum, he must be married before he is thirty—which will be within twenty-four hours. He is persuaded to be present at a party where eligible girls will be produced from whom he must choose a wife. Therefore, armed with twelve million to-be and copious advice on love-making, he sets out.

He is not very successful in his proposals. The first girl turns out to be engaged; the second doesn't want to be married—she wants to be "endowed," the third wants a "big strong cave man," the next is in search of "ye olden knight," and so on. Just when he is in despair of being married on time, one of the girls who has refused him changes her mind—but so do the others. From this dilemma of too many engagements he is rescued by his close friend, Meekin, who produces a fictitious telegram, saying that Jimmie will not receive a cent. Instantly the fortune-seeking girls lose interest and go away leaving Jimmie with Anne Windsor, an old friend whom he discovers he really loves, and who declares that she has been in love with him for a long time. Meekin then tells them the truth and they rush off to get married.

Frantic, flustered Jimmie Shannon was amusingly played by John Scanlon; Anne, his bride, by Nancy Hall, with Fred Dambrie as his helpful friend, Meekin; Frances Tabachnick as Gregory Garrison, already engaged to Joe Spence (Clinton Gross); Leah Sapiro as Peggy Wood, who "wouldn't"; Ruth Jillson as Lilly Trevor, heaver of sighs and in search of her one, one man; Priscilla Bickford as Florence Jones, for whom Jimmie must take up physical culture; Lillian Freedman as Betty Willoughby, and Gertrude Pierce as Irene Trevor, making up the rest of Jimmie's "seven chances", all afforded much humor.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrison, Georgy's parents, were ably played by Charles Power and Josephine Freeman. Thomas Carnes as Ralph Denby and Jerome Rosen as Earl Goddard, two of Jimmie's pals, with Robert Postle as George, the servant, completed the cast.

Great credit must go to Mrs. Pearl C. Andrews, who coached the play, and to the members of the business management: Diana Wiesenthal, assistant business manager; Thomas Carnes, stage manager; Stewart Grimmer, property man; Ruth Erlick, decorations; Robert Postle, electrician; Dorothy Rubinoff was prompter.

DEMONSTRATION DAY

In Portland, Maine, James Russell Lowell's immortal words, "What is so rare as a day in June?", are often paraphrased to read, "What is so rare as a (good) day in June?" However, June 6, 1935, proved an exception, and skies of blue, balmy breezes, and a sun, warm and benignly smiling greeted us, as over a thousand students, augmented by a large audience of parents and friends, gathered at P.H.S. Stadium for the second annual Demonstration Day. Led by the band, and escorted by the Cadets and Drum and Bugle Corps, the students in their gymnasium regalia marched onto the field where they stood at attention during the salute to the flag. It would be hard to say which event was the best, but for many, the outstanding feature of the afternoon was the Coronation of Theresa Casey as "Queen for a Day." Attendants, twenty in number, becomingly gowned in pastel shades and carrying bouquets of spring flowers, escorted their queen to the throne in the attractive bower at one end of the green, taking their places to form a most picturesque tableau. And then one thousand loyal subjects from the Health Education Department presented for her approval a magnificent demonstration program including exhibitions of drill work, group games, tumbling, and other acrobatic feats. The Cadets, cheerleaders, and Bugle and Drum Corps were also very much in evidence with their snappy feature drills, the culmination of the afternoon being a May Pole Dance, followed by general dancing at the Exposition Building.

Second Row: Homer Alexander, Conrad McDowell, John Scanlon, Ernest Hill, Joseph Macri, Charles MacIntosh, Burton Bowdoin, James Greeley.
Third Row: Irving Woolf, Abraham Stolkner, David Dickson, Robert Bowdoin.

OUR ORCHESTRA

Since music is the theme of our yearbook, it is fitting to present to you at this time—Our Orchestra. Under the direction of Miss Chase, this group, two mornings a week, practice diligently in order that we may have music at our Assemblies, Christmas Pageant, Class Play, and Graduation. It is sometimes difficult to get a full instrumentation, for often skilled musicians are lost by graduation and applicants for vacant positions are not quite ready for orchestral work and must practice faithfully before being admitted as regular members. When, a need arises, instruments are furnished talented students, and free instruction given, in order that those music lovers may have their chance to learn the instrument of their choice.

BAND

OUR BAND

Can you imagine a Thanksgiving Day game without the band? Don't you intuitively beat time as martial strains leak out through the closed doors of the Assembly Hall? Can't you feel the thrills and chills running up and down your spine as the combined bands of Portland and Deering perform at the Cadet Ball? Often, too little credit is given our musical organizations. We listen and applaud, but fail to remember that two days of practice a week was necessary to bring about the results which we hear as we go into the Hall for an Assembly. Mr. Rigby and Mr. Simonton are to be congratulated on their splendid work, but let us not forget those students who keep music alive in our school by playing in "Our Band."

GLEE CLUBS

The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, under the direction of Miss Emily Chase officially started off the year by electing Stanwood Anderson and Myra Whitney, respectively, as presidents. The Girls' Glee Club has eighty members and the Boys' Glee Club has one hundred and forty members enrolled.

The first public activity of the Glee Clubs this year was the presentation of a "Pageant of the Nativity," given as a Christmas gift to the school. It was presented in the morning to the students and in the afternoon to parents and friends. The prologue was read by Muriel Googins. The narrator was Ernest Hill. The part of Mary was portrayed by Theodora Mutty, that of Joseph, by John Scanlon; and the Archangel, by Alice Peterson. The oriental kings were Stanwood Anderson, William Wong Pow, and Roland Murray. John Savage, Durward Brewer, and Richard Nickerson played the part of the shepherds, with Robert Hay as the shepherd boy. The soloists were Myra Whitney, Edward Chase, Conrad McDowell, and Lyman Lamson. Many beautiful Christmas carols were sung by an angel chorus made up of members of the Girls' Glee Club, and the pageant was concluded by the singing of "O Come All Ye Faithful" by the chorus and congregation. This annual pageant cannot be surpassed in reverence, beauty, color, and harmony.

The Glee Clubs entered in Class A of the New England Music Festival held in Portland on May 2 and 3. After having the choice of a tuning up number, the girls sang "Dobru Noc" and the boys "Could My Songs Their Way Be Winging".

Much credit is due to Miss Emily Chase and her assistants for their untiring efforts in making the glee clubs two of the most popular and active organizations of the school.

The two other musical groups in Portland High School are the orchestra and band. Miss Chase also conducts the orchestra. There are forty members in the orchestra and practice is held on Monday and Wednesday, weekly. Due to the loss of so many players by last year's graduation, the orchestra has not been complete in its instrumentation during the entire year. However, at graduation the orchestra played for the grand march and rendered several other selections. The members of the orchestra have worked steadily to perfect their music for the graduation exercises, and there are a few very accomplished players in the group.

The band consists of thirty-five members and is under the direction of Mr. William W. Simonton of the faculty. The band practised on Tuesday and Thursday each week. It has played at all the assemblies and at many football games. The band accompanied the basketball team to Bangor and has headed many parades in its honor. At the Cadet Ball the band rendered the following selections: "Americans We" by Fillmore, "The Barber of Seville" by Rossini, "Kingdom of Dreams" by Barnards, concluding the program with "Cretan Rousers" by Dillon.

TOTEM BUSINESS BOARD AND TYPISTS

TOTEM

With the heritage of the excellence of previous volumes, the 1936 editorial and business board of the TOTEM set out to make a yearbook that would be superior to its predecessors. Harold Sanborn, Captain of the Portland High School Cadets and winner of the best officer's medal at the 1936 Cadet Ball, was appointed Manager of the Business Board. Also on the business board were Charles Power who was selected for Advertising Manager, and Jack Cinamon, who was appointed Circulating Manager. Assisting these managers were Max Cope, Basketball Star of the Co-Champs of New England and champions of Maine; Thomas Mcgrath, William Pinansky, Nancy Hall, Priscilla Bickford, Leah Sapiro, and Frances Tabachnick.

At an assembly in the Portland City Hall, to honor our co-champs, the swimming and basketball teams and to tell the merits of the 1936 TOTEM, Muriel Googins, the talented cheerleader, gave a spirited talk on behalf of the TOTEM.

The seniors, freshmen, and sophomores responded heartily to this appeal, but the juniors lagged far behind their subscription quota. The President of the junior class, Roger Dunbar, assisted by many of his fellow students, made a direct appeal to the members of the Junior class and the result was gratifying.

The Editorial Staff of the TOTEM was one of the most versatile assembled in years. At the head of the staff was William H. Feeney, Jr., star of the swim team and holder of two 1936 interscholastic championships, who was assisted by his associate editor Gordon Kennedy, Major of the Portland High School Cadets and winner of the medal in the 1935 cadet drill competition. Other members of the staff were: David Dickson, only Junior to gain a position on the TOTEM Editorial Board, flash on the track team, and an Editor of the High Lights Board; Stanley Sigel, Valedictorian of the graduating class; Sports Editor, Charles Waldron, versatile member of the Dramatic Club and of the High Lights Board; Hilda Stockbridge, members of the hospitality committee; Wally Westwig, Woodcarving and Nature Club fan, and Josephine Freeman, Ruth Erlick, and Ruth Jillson, all members of the High Lights Editorial Staff.

A close and coöperative relationship between the faculty and the TOTEM Boards proved highly beneficial to both in turning out a better yearbook.

The editorial and business boards of the 1936 TOTEM have been very graciously aided in many of their undertakings and have received much valuable counsel and aid from the members of the Faculty Advisory Committee. To the following members the TOTEM wishes to extend its gratitude: Miss Ruth L. Sturgis and Miss Grace L. Dolley of the editorial board, and Mr. Cecil C. Farrar, in charge of general mechanics, and Mr. William E. Chapin of the business board. The TOTEM also wishes to express its thanks to the following typists: Dorothy Chase, Mary Clancy, A. Helen Ware, and Josephine Lancia, for the many hours of typing that they have given so that the 1936 TOTEM might be the best in years.

BANK, TOTEM BANK, AND AD GATHERERS

BANK AND AD GATHERERS

The school savings bank has wound up a successful year with the number of depositors exceeding the number of last year. Two days were required at the beginning of the year to accommodate the patrons instead of the previous one day. Many of the deposits were made to cover the expenses of the graduation, the Washington trip, and the yearbook. In fact, so many were the instalments paid on the TOTEM that three special bank days and special bank officials were necessary to handle that part of the business.

The regular bank officials were Helen Ware, cashier; Jane Foster, teller; Josephine Lancia, bookkeeper; Josephine Huszcza, supervisor; and Marion Burns, substitute. The TOTEM bank officials, aided by the regular officials, included Florence Greene, Sarah Apotheker, Lillian Freedman, Lucy Asdourian, Alice Barberian, Sarah Mack, and Laura Worthing.

There is one small but industrious body which does much of the menial labor which goes to make the TOTEM the successful yearbook that it is. This group, the Advertising Board of the TOTEM, is often not given enough credit for its work in helping to make the TOTEM a success. Nor could it be lauded nearly enough for the work that it has done this year by far surpassing all expectations for the advertising section. Under the excellent leadership of Charles Power, advertisements have been solicited from various business firms and drawn up for publication in our TOTEM. Those who have aided the manager in this difficult task are Leah Sapiro, Frances Tabacknick, Priscilla Bickford, Nancy Hall, William Pinansky, and William Fuller, all members of the 1936 graduating class.

HIGH LIGHTS EDITORS-IN-CHIEF

Sitting: Esther Woolf, Pauline Cushing, Charles Power, Robert Pennell, Ruth Jillson, Diana Wiesenthal.
Standing: Cleveland Kennedy, Richard Loomis, Charles Waldron, Durward Brewer, David Dickson, Lucy Asdourian.

HIGH LIGHTS

With its third year of useful activity completed, the Portland High School High Lights has definitely established itself as the ideal means of disseminating news of high school activities to the general public. A weekly feature of the Portland Evening Express, this full page of pictures, news, and features, owes its existence to the generosity of the Gannett Publishing Company which has provided like pages for the four other major high schools of Greater Portland.

The last graduation took an unusually heavy toll of experienced writers, and necessitated a revolutionary change in the preparation of this year's sheet. The usual staff, consisting of an editor and an organized editorial board, has been discarded in favor of a contributing staff open to all students, with the editor being chosen each week by the faculty adviser. The advantages of this method have been many. The new blood has infused a healthy variety into the writings and prevented the copy from becoming stereotyped. A far greater number of students than ever possible under the former plan have been given a distinct opportunity to acquire practical journalistic training.

Six members of the English Department, Miss Lilla A. Stetson, Miss Grace L. Dolley, Miss Genevieve Corey, Miss Louise Dunham, and Miss Ruth L. Sturgis, assisted at times by Miss Adelaide Lehan, have supervised the preparation of the High Lights. Acting Editors during the year include Lucy Asdourian, Durwood Brewer, Max Cope, Pauline Cushing, David Dickson, Ruth Jillson, Cleveland Kennedy, Richard Loomis, Robert Pennell, Charles Power, Charles Waldron, Diana Wiesenthal, and Esther Woolf. All have served efficiently and faithfully.

THE CLASSICAL FORUM

The annual May Frolic of the Classical Forum was a fitting climax of the year's activities for an organization which takes much of its background from ancient Rome. The members of the Forum, being in a Roman (and Greek) department, did just what the Romans would have done. In the midst of the noise and fun-making of the Frolic, any of the old Romans would have felt right at home, for the Romans seemed to have cared more for the performing of music than for the composing of it and offered prizes to those who had the greatest dexterity, or could blow the loudest, or play the fastest. The Romans enriched very little the knowledge and richness of the world of music for they did not show a great talent for this art. This desire of the Romans for noise and martial music instead of finesse, melody, and harmony in playing, reflects their strong national spirit and war-like nature.

On the other hand, music to the Greeks was an art which made use of all the other arts and the sciences, including mathematics. The Greek boys didn't go to a high school or college but to Music schools. The Greeks had music for all occasions whether at home, in school, or at work.

The Classical Forum is open to all students who have studied either Latin or Greek. The present enrollment is about 300 students. Programs with classical backgrounds are presented, to which each member may bring a friend. After each program there is a dance in the boys' gym. At the first program of the season a playlet was presented, entitled, "The Two Baskets," a story of a Roman miser. Slides depicting some classical masterpieces of art and some of the characters of classical mythology were shown. The second program was one of the best that has ever been presented. Entitled, "Latin Grammar Speaks," this presentation told the story of a girl who disliked studying Latin. When Grammar, the Declensions, the Conjugations, and the rest of Syntax came to life, they finally persuaded her that Latin is indeed worth studying. The cast was large and performed very well. This sketch was directed by Mrs. Burnham, at her first Classical Forum at Portland High School. If the following Forum programs are as successful as this one, the presentations of the Classical Forum will be one of the most popular features of extra-curricular activities.

The classical idea is further carried out in the names of the officers: consul, lictor, aedile, quaestor; in the Club colors—tyrian purple and white; in the club motto—"Possunt quia posse videntur." (They are able because they seem to be able). The purpose of the Classical Forum is set forth in the last statement of its creed:

"I believe in Latin, because there is no other school study in which one can find so strong a combination as this of thorough mental discipline, acquaintance with the language and the civilization as the basis of our own, and the ability to express one's views convincingly."

The officers of the Classical Forum this year are as follows: Consuls, Harlan Carter and Nancy Hall; Lictors: Fred Dambrie, Gordon Kennedy, Walter Schultz, and Stanley Sigel; Aediles: Rheta Sacknoff and Priscilla Bickford; Quaestors, Leah Sapiro, and Mrs. Margaret Burnham, faculty adviser of the Forum.

DEBATING SQUAD

DEBATING

Starting the 1935-36 debating campaign with not a single veteran of varsity experience, Coach Walch labored unstintingly to mold a green team into a group of polished, forceful speakers. That his efforts were singularly successful may be gleaned from the knowledge that Portland was the only local school to survive the initial round of the Bates League.

The season opened on December 7 with the Bowdoin Interscholastic Debate. Portland High was represented by Mary Nicholas, affirmative; and David Dickson, negative, who finished in fifth place, but twenty points behind Leavitt Institute. South Portland High played host to eighteen teams on February 15 in a practice debate on the socialized medicine question. Three Blue teams entered the contest with team H., consisting of Ann Folsom and Edith Palmer, affirmative, and Jack Cinamon and David Dickson, negative, finishing in a tie for second position. On March 27, the local affirmative team, consisting of Muriel Googins and Esther Woolf, met Lewiston at home, and Mary Nicholas and Edward Everett, defending the negative, motored to Rumford to meet Stephens High in the preliminaries of the Bates League. The affirmative carried off a 3-0 decision with Miss Woolf being adjudged best speaker, while the negative collected a 2-1 decision at Rumford.

Portland enjoyed a much-sought honor on April 11, when it conducted the New England Forensic League Speaking and Debating Championships. Coach Walch was chairman of the Forensic League and was instrumental in bringing this attraction to the Forest City. With but three first string debaters graduating, the 1937 squad should ably perpetuate the splendid record of Portland High School.

Quietly, but efficiently, the lively group that comprise the Red Cross Council have conducted their many worthwhile projects, and have again brought to a creditable conclusion another year of zealous activity.

Discovering that a more healthy condition of the treasury was necessary, the Council adopted the novel scheme of selling Portland High booster stickers during the football season. At Thanksgiving, over four hundred cans of food were collected about the school and distributed wherever a need existed. The approach of Christmas found the Red Cross especially busy. Three sleds and twenty-five dollars went to Opportunity Farm, the Council's all-time project; and covers for the Christmas dinner menus were made and sent to ships of our Navy. .

Each year, the Portland High Chapter keeps in active contact with the Council of some other country by means of a portfolio containing handiwork and information about the school and the city. The Junior girl members made an attractive portfolio which was sent to "the land of the rising sun," Japan.

The serious floods which devastated parts of Maine in March, placed an urgent summons upon the resources of the Red Cross Council. Invaluable service was rendered by the school Council, much clothing, food, and money being collected. About two hundred books were sent to a rural school in northern Maine where one of our graduates is teaching.

Seven major projects and innumerable smaller ones, for the purpose of extending good will, spreading happiness, and alleviating distress, were the contribution of our Junior Council this year, thus fulfilling their motto. "I serve."

OFFICERS OF LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Sitting: Priscilla Hayes, Estelle Long, Rheta Sacknoff, Esther Bellefontaine, Catherine Ward.
Standing: David Dickson, Pauline Cushing, Fred Dambrie.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Unique in its position as the only honor society in Portland High School, Le Cercle Francais has completed its sixteenth season of practical and pleasurable service to the French student.

Since its inception in 1920, this organization has striven to provide each member with helpful information about French customs, traditions, and current problems. Early experience convinced the advisers that this ideal could best be attained by working with small, selected groups composed of students possessing about the same training. Membership in the society has been elevated to a coveted honor through a regulation making a minimum rank of eighty-five a requisite for admission. Every effort has been exerted, in the preparation of programs, to make each meeting not only a source of distinct gain in a practical sense but also a medium for social enjoyment. French must be spoken during the hour, and any violation of this ruling calls for a forfeit. Games are played and small prizes are awarded for the best answers to questionnaires and crossword puzzles. Since French music plays an important part in familiarizing the students with correct French pronunciation and usage, every program is arranged to include the playing of French phonograph records and group singing of French songs. Records of French dialogue and a short sketch are presented at each meeting.

This year there are four groups: the C^2 group: Fred Dambrie, president, and Miss Welch, adviser; the B^2 and C^1 group: David Dickson, president, and Mrs. Damren, adviser; the B^2 group: Catherine Ward, president, and Miss Broe, adviser; the B^1 group: Marguerite Maxwell, president, and Miss Weeks, adviser.

DRAMATIC CLUB OFFICERS

Sitting: Nancy Hall, Elizabeth Lagdon, Vice-President; Helen Libby, Secretary; Ruth Jillson, Leah Sapiro.
Standing: Jacob Cinamon, Max Cope, Treasurer; Fred Dambrie, Charles Power, Robert Pennell, President.

DRAMATIC CLUB

"Who is the White Phantom?" Speculation was rife prior to Friday, the thirteenth of December when the Dramatic Club opened its second season with the one-act mystery play, starring Charles Waldron in the title role. The supporting cast, Elinor Gilliatt, Nancy Hall, Priscilla Bickford, Charles Power, Eldon Hahn, and Fred Dambrie found this vehicle an excellent one with which to start the season under the new regime which had divided the membership of Juniors and Seniors with four groups of fifteen each, to be responsible for one play during the year.

"The Dear Departed" was the choice of the second group. This proved a pleasing drama depicting the attitude of children who believed their father had died. Marcia Finks, Muriel Googins, Phyllis Potter, Nathan Glovsky, Frances McRae, and Thomas Carnes comprised the cast, with Eldon Hahn as lead, each playing his part with conviction.

The Bowdoin one-act play contest was held this year at South Portland High School and our contribution was "The Intruder." Although not victors, the group gave excellent interpretations. Priscilla Bickford, Ruth Jillson, Leah Sapiro, Nancy Hall, Mary Clancy, Fred Dambrie, Charles Waldron, and Max Cope were the Thespians represented.

The Dramatic Club was organized in 1934 and although one of the newest organizations in Portland High School has taken a definite place in the life of the school, providing an opportunity for self-expression to those not musically inclined. With two successful seasons back of it, the future is definitely assured.

TRIANGLE NATURE CLUB

Llewellyn Lamson, Secretary; Jeannette Libbey, President; Wally Westwig, Vice-President; Rita Luja, Chairman Programme Committee; James Samuels, Treasurer.

THE NATURE CLUB

The Triangle Nature Club, which was organized last year by Miss Wiswell, biology instructor, is rapidly increasing in interest. The threefold aim of this club is "Knowledge, Enjoyment, and the Search for Beauty in Nature." The members of this Nature Triangle elect a president, vice-president, treasurer, and a program committee which, with the help of Miss Wiswell plan the programs for all meetings. Many of these meetings, which are held every other Wednesday afternoon, are in the form of hikes and nature walks.

The members have enjoyed immensely the outdoor gatherings at which specimens (not a few of which are alive) are collected to be studied and examined at some of the indoor meetings. For several months Minerals was the chief subject for discussion and study. During this time Miss Wiswell gave several interesting talks, at the same time showing the members specimens of the minerals under discussion. Astronomy is another fascinating subject in which the members are very much interested. Maps of the best known constellations were drawn on the board so that their positions in the heavens might be seen.

In March, application sent to the School—Garden Association was accepted and the club is now entitled to all the privileges of that organization. It is hoped that the club will continue to grow in the future as it has grown in the past two years. The officers include: President, Jeanette Libbey; vice-president, Wally Westwig; secretary, Llewellyn Lamson; treasurer, James Samuels; and Rita Luja.

ART CLUB OFFICERS

Jeannette Deering Yvonne Archambeau Ruth Erlick

ART CLUB

The Art Club has been in great demand this year for making posters, and has done yeoman service for the TOTEM, the Cadet Ball, the Senior Class Play, the Junior Prom, the Senior Farewell Dance. These colorful and suggestive posters have adorned the corridor walls in rapid succession much of the year. The Club has made posters for the following contests: The Community Chest, Philip Copp winning first prize; the Audubon Society, Ruth Williams receiving second prize; the Museum of Modern Art, and the Safety Drive, sponsored by the State.

But the making of posters is not the only work done. At every Christmas season, cards are made by the members. This year the High School card was designed by Jeannette Deering. The section pages of the TOTEM are also made in the Art Department. This year they are different from those of previous years, being soap carvings made by sophomore members of the club, John De Grasse, and Antonio Macri.

The Club not only works for others, but it also has successful social affairs for its own benefit, and conducts most interesting club meetings at which guest speakers are presented. Dr. Ruth Emery spoke on "Choosing a Profession"; Dr. Louise Jones on the subject, "Keeping Fit". To wind up the school year, the Club held a bazaar in the Art Room. Around the walls of the room were booths in which the members of the Club displayed unique novelties and useful articles of clay, metal, and block prints. Cleveland Kennedy drew the end leaves for 1936 TOTEM.

OFFICERS OF THE PHILATELIC SOCIETY

Malvin Finkelstein, Treasurer; Charles Power, President, Edmund Berry, Vice-President; Estelle Long, Secretary.

PHILATELIC SOCIETY

The newest organization in Portland High School is the Philatelic Society. It was formed when, in a survey of freshmen hobbies, the Hospitality Committee found that a stamp club was desired. At the present time it has a membership of twenty-one students.

It was decided that the meetings should be held once a month, that the president should be elected from senior members, that the secretary should be a junior, and the treasurer, a sophomore, The following officers were elected; Charles Power, president; Edmund Berry, vice-president; Estelle Long, secretary; and Malvin Finkelstein, treasurer. Miss Ella D. Pennell has been the club's able faculty adviser.

The club's purpose is to promote interest in philatelism and to study stamps. At the meetings, the members exchange stamps and play instructive games, the winners receiving stamps for prizes. The program for each meeting has been planned by different members of the club. Several expert philatelists have addressed the club and several exhibits have been held. At the Portland Stamp Club Exhibition the exhibits of Charles Power won first and sixth prizes, and those of Donald Clark won the second and third prizes. The exhibits of Donald Clark and John Stewart were judged first and second, respectively, in a club exhibition.

This club has made an excellent beginning, and its future is especially bright since stamp collecting is one of the most popular and instructive of hobbies.

HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE

Jeanette Weiss, Josephine Freeman, Chairman; Charles Waldron, Robert Pennell, Jack Cinamon, Anna Gubbins, Hilda Stockbridge.

HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE

Newest of the organizations in Portland High School is the year-old Hospitality Committee. Designed to fill a special need, the Committee has become an almost inseparable part of our extra-curricular scheme. Under the guidance of Miss Lilla Stetson, it was intended to help new students become acquainted with the school and its activities, and to welcome students from other schools. Accordingly, as their first major project, the Committee sponsored a Freshman assembly, at which each member spoke briefly about the opportunities offered in the extra-curriculars. Following the talks, each student was given a slip of paper on which to write the names of the activities in which he was interested. As a follow-up project a great many students were interviewed personally.

The second project was undertaken in the "dead of winter." A large party, resplendent with culinary embellishments provided by the cooking classes was given for all students who came this year to Portland High from out-of-town schools, personal invitations having been extended to the guests. Next, a "tag day" was sponsored, when all students from other schools were called to the auditorium and tagged with blue tags bearing the person's name and the town from which he or she came. Thus Portland High became better acquainted with these new friends.

Aside from these special publicized projects, the Committee has performed innumerable personal services to teachers, new students, old students, and visitors.

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

THE DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

The Portland High School Drum and Bugle Corps, under the supervision of its faculty adviser, Mr. Stoddard, continues this year its career of being the most colorful, the loudest, and one of the best organized groups in the school. Although only in its third year, the Corps, with its white caps and trousers and its blue and red capes, has so firmly entrenched itself in the hearts, the minds, the eyes, and especially the ears of all undergraduates and alumni that the students and teachers of the school will have to put up with the beating of the drums, the clashing of cymbals, the blaring of bugles, every Friday for many a year to come as the Corps practices in the boys' gymnasium.

At several football games, the Corps played stirring notes and martial music, interspersed with intricate march routine between halves. Playing at the Cadet Ball, the Drum and Bugle Corps was again the sensation of the Ball, stealing the spotlight from the Cadets and combined bands of Portland and Deering High.

Seven months of intensive training were climaxed most favorably on the evening of April 17, when the Portland High Cadets Corps won for the second consecutive year the cup for the most excellent battalion. Organized in 1891, the Corps has grown from a small unit to one of the largest groups in the school. At present it numbers eighty cadets and about twenty officers. Forty-minute drill periods are held every Monday and Wednesday morning in the gymnasium.

The forty-fourth annual Cadet Drill and Ball, bringing together the Cadets of Deering High School and Portland High School in "precision competition," was held in City Hall Auditorium. The Battalion Cup which Portland won here, was brought one step nearer a permanent niche in our trophy room. Four times have the Portland High battalions taken this cup. A fifth year of supremacy will secure it forever. Cadet Corporal Donald Sawyer received a decoration as the most outstanding cadet, and Captain Harold Sanborn one as the most outstanding officer in the Portland Corps. Commissions were awarded to Regimental Major Gordon A. Kennedy and his staff of officers.

The Cadet Ball being its usual financial success, the Portland High Cadets will go to Panther Pond at the close of School in June, there to enjoy four days' camping, as a reward for their faithful service. Much credit is due to Major Karl V. Palmer, instructor of the Corps of both Deering High and Portland High.

Edward Everett, Esther Nicholas, Jeanette Weiss, Jeanette Billings.

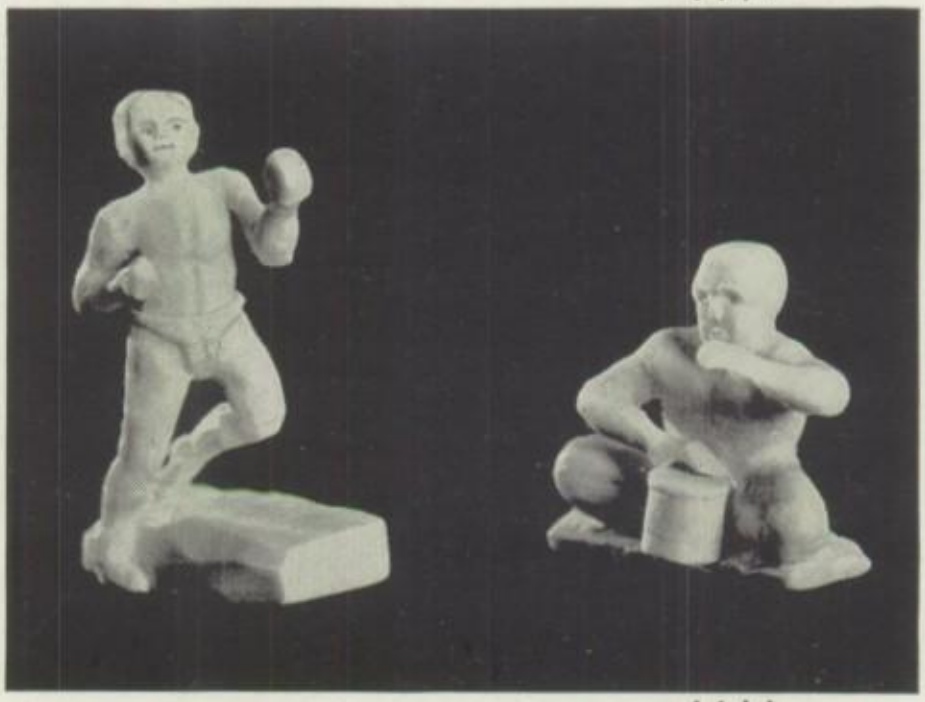
DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

The German Club has had a very interesting and profitable year, its varied programmes including a study of world-famous German musicians, modern Olympic Games, the German Army, German Universities, and the Passion Play.

R. McIntyre, W. Westwig, L. Stetson, F. Bailey, Instructor; N. Potter, W. Simonton, L. Mann, J. Freeman.

THE WOODWORKING CLASS

Something novel in the way of clubs is our Woodcarving class composed of both teachers and pupils. The class is taught by Mr. Frank Bailey each Thursday afternoon. Miss Nellie Potter is president and Nino Giampetruzzi, treasurer.



ATHLETICS

CHAMPIONSHIP BASKETBALL TEAM

First Row: Co-captain Thomas Mulkern, Walter Quinn, Co-captain John Lomac, Austin McIntyre, Peter Colello.
Second Row: Coach Fitzpatrick, Donald Drossel, Joseph Castellucci, Anthony Peverada, Joseph Walsh.
Third Row: James Markley, Max Cope, Casper Tevanian, Mgr.

CHAMPIONSHIP BASKETBALL TEAM

We call them "Kids of Destiny," "New England's Co-champs," and "The Little Boy Blues," this brilliant team of hoop-loopers who, in the short space of a couple of months, brought glory, praise, and honor "in basketfuls" to themselves, to their incomparable coach, "Jimmy" Fitzpatrick, and to Portland High School, the City of Portland, and the State of Maine. Without exception the greatest bunch of athletes ever to bear the Blue standard, our 1936 basketball team won sixteen straight games to annex the Southwestern Maine Conference title, the State championship, and to advance into the final round of the New England Scholastic Basketball Tournament, where they came within a single point of bringing home the huge Fletcher Cup, the worthy goal of Portland's 1937 quintet.

CHAMPIONSHIP SWIMMING TEAM

Second Row: Lewis Wilkins, Warren Blake, Nino Giampetruzzi, Charles Griffin, Roger Dunbar.
Third Row: Charles Ferris, Tony Bruni, Cecil Hinds.

CHAMPIONSHIP SWIMMING TEAM

The superlatively successful 1936 season saw the team, under Coach George Casey win nine dual meets and the State Interscholastic Championship, making a grand total of thirty consecutive dual victories and four consecutive state titles. In the Interscholastics, climaxing the season with a spectacular win of 43½ points, new individual records were set by Robert Pennell in the 100-yard backstroke of 1:09 4/5, and Bill Feeney in the 220-yard freestyle of 2:33. Feeney also won the state 100-yard freestyle championship. The freestyle relay team of Griffin, Pennell, Hinds, and Blake, set a new record of 1:50 4/5. D'Ascanio, All-American diver, retained his state title for the third consecutive year and the New England title for the second consecutive year. This is, indeed, a most remarkable achievement.

UNDEFEATED LIGHTWEIGHT TEAM

Second Row: Glazier, DiPietro, Lynch, Castellucci, Fogg, Sylvester, Derrig.

FOOTBALL

September 21st found Coach "Bob" Bowie, former Thornton mentor, and his two new assistants, James A. "Jim" Sibson, from Massachusetts State, and Melbourne E. "Mel" Means, former Madison, Massachusetts High, mentor; John "Giant" Conroy with his lightweights and "Red" Lee as trainer, constituting the 1935 coaching staff.

Thus a new staff, a handful of veterans, and plenty of "fight," were the motivating forces which caused Portland High School's Blue Bulldogs to emerge with three victories, two deadlocks, and five defeats.

Outstanding among the veterans was "Johnny" Burns, but an injury in the third game forced him to the bench until November 9th, when he went back on the field again, only to sustain another injury. In the little veteran "Joe" Richio, the Bulldogs found, however, a substitute for Burns. "Frannie" Mitchell and "Pete" Gaskill, also returned to togs, and with them came Austin McIntire, "Johnny" Higgins, Frank Conners, "Bob" Seymour, "Red" Vance, "Ed" Gorham, "Jabber" Foley, "Joe" Catir, "Theo" Sarelakos, and "Stan" Anderson.

In the first game, the Bowiemen romped to an auspicious start, downing Westbrook High 12 to 6, on September 21. Next came Portland High's ancient suburban rivals—Deering High School's Purple Panics. Although they outplayed and outclassed Deering, frequent fumbles robbed them of victory, and the whistle found the teams deadlocked, 0-0. The first setback of the season came to Portland in the wake of Winslow High's Black Raiders, who handed them the short end of a 19 to 0 score.

Over Bangor's Crimson Tide, the Blue Gridders reaped their second victory, the score, 6 to 0, hardly presenting a true picture of the caliber of the Bulldogs' superb football. Following this victory, came Portland's most severe defeat, as the Bowiemen bowed before a vastly superior Thornton Academy eleven, 25 to 0. On October 26, fearing an overwhelming defeat at the hand of an unbeaten, untied, all-veteran Cheverus team, the Blue held them 6 to 6 tie. In this all-important fracas, the Bowiemen were at their best. Journeying to Lewiston to engage a strong Lewiston High combine, Portland out-classed their rivals by one lone touchdown. But then Portland's victory progress ceased, for on November 9, South Portland's championship football team administered a sound 19 to 0 shellacking. On the following Saturday, a championship team from Somersworth, New Hampshire, defeated Portland at the Stadium with the heart-rending score of 7 to 6. The final whistle snatched almost inevitable victory from the Bowiemen, as it found the ball on Somersworth's two-yard line, in Portland's possession.

Two weeks after, came the season's real objective—the Thanksgiving Day encounter with Deering, and a heart-breaking loss—12 to 0.

Under the tutelage of Coach John Conroy, the Portland High Lightweights surged through stiff opposition to end their season undefeated and unscored upon.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

First Row: Ethel Bowen, Barbara Kidder, Anna Cayia, Ellen Zukunft, Captain Mary Burke, Dorothy Walp, Beatrice Smith, Ann Naughton, Katherine Greely.

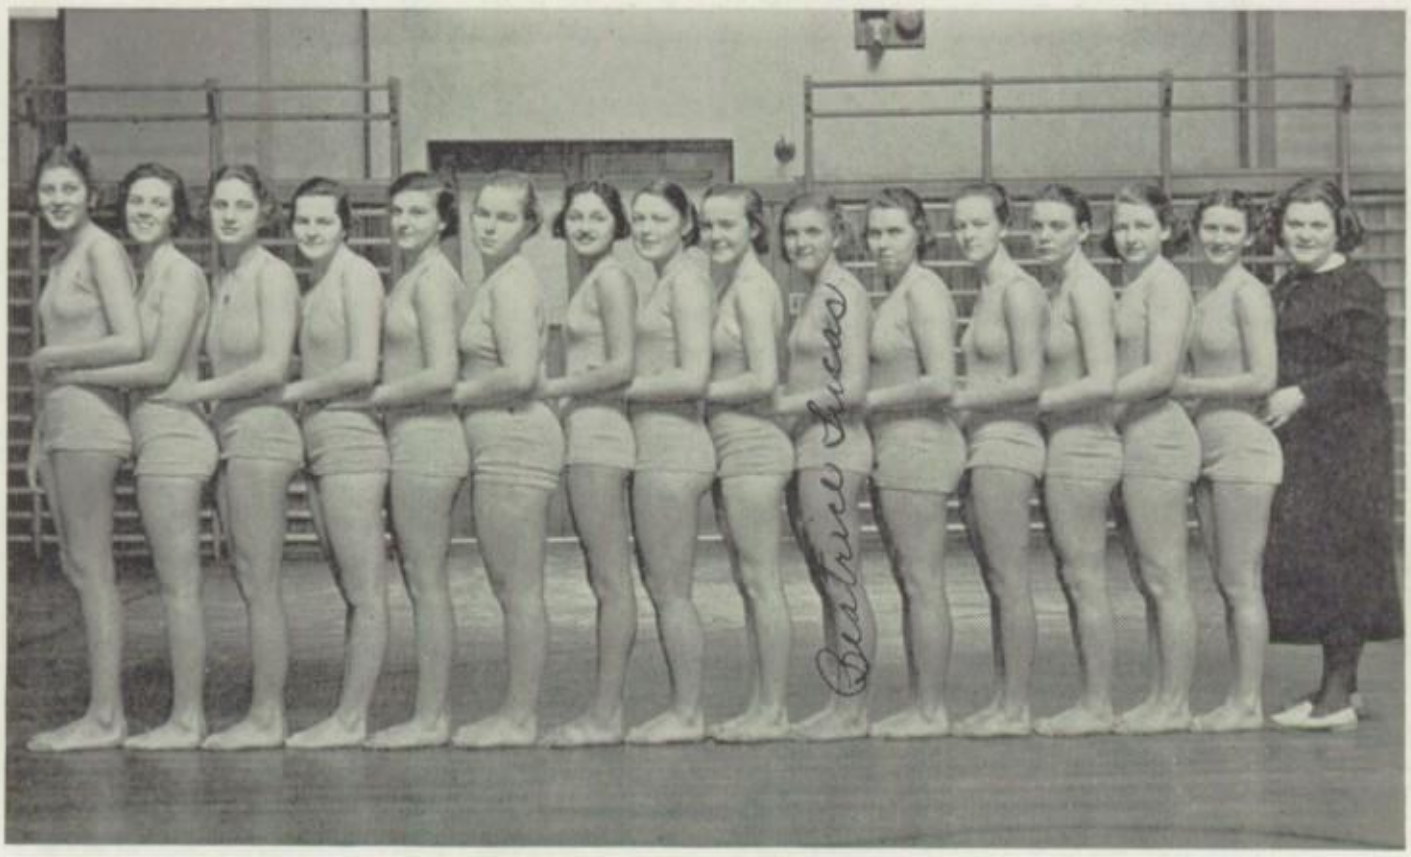
GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Despite the loss of many of the star players, the girls' basketball sextet, coached by Dorothy Rowe and captained by Mary Burke, have had a very satisfactory season. Opening the year against Morse at the Portland High School gym, the team easily won 27-18 with the able help of forwards, Ellen Zukunft and Ethel Bowen. A week later, aided by superb teamwork, they defeated Westbrook, 37-13.

Finding it difficult to adjust themselves to a foreign floor, the fighting sextet fell before the more experienced Caper team at South Portland. The next opponent, the powerful Purple lassies, finally overpowered them, 23-14.

The following week at Morse the game was won in the last few minutes by Ellen Zukunft's timely baskets. Captain Burke at forward and Mary Conwell at center played stellar games. On March 7, the game with South Portland, one of the fastest of the year, was played in the Portland gym. In the great last period rally, the Caperettes wiped out a Portland lead of 16-15 and swept on to a 19-16 victory. The final game of the season was with Deering at Deering. Although the Blue put up a game battle, they were not able to keep pace with the combination and were out-scored 26 to 12.

Although many of the more experienced players will graduate this June, Coach Rowe is confident of another successful season with such stars as Ellen Zukunft, Dorothy French, Connie Furbush, Mary Conwell, and Dorothy Walp.



GIRLS' SWIMMING TEAM

GIRLS' SWIMMING

Although the girls' swimming team of Portland High School has not been victorious this season, yet, through participation in many meets, it has received much practice and experience which will make it a much stronger team next year.

The first meet of the season was with the girls' team of the Portland Boys' Club, in which the Blue lost. The next meet was held at Brunswick. This the Brunswick High lassies won. A return engagement was to have been held at the Boys' Club, but was postponed because of the inoculations for typhoid. On March 20, nine members of the team participated in the A. A. U. swimming championship held at the Portland Boys' Club. Barbara Currier won the women's 50-yard freestyle, breaking the pool record by nearly two seconds.

Medals were also won by Marion Blake, Dot McLewin, and Jeannette Libbey. In the third and last week of the season, the Blue met the Brunswick girls, and again the Brunswick team was victorious. The most exciting event of the meet was the 200-yard relay in which Portland (Currier, McLewin, Blake, Knowles) triumphed over Brunswick. Miss Madeline Kingsley is the facutly manager.

TRACK TEAM

Although on the losing end in four out of five engagements, the track team of 1936 compiled a satisfactory record. Handicapped by the loss of two veteran stalwarts, John Burns of dash fame and Dick Gomes, high-jumper of note, Coach Corey, assisted by Melbourne Means, produced a well-rounded cluster.

Traveling to Brunswick on January 11, Portland met defeat at the hands of a powerful Bowdoin Frosh squad by the count of 86 to 18. The following week-end found the Juniors snatching a hard fought victory from the Sophomores in the annual interclass meet, now restricted to non-lettermen. with the Senior and Freshmen representatives trailing in that order. On January 25, the Thornton Academy tracksters engaged the Blue in the most bitter struggle of the entire season. The final score favored the Coreymen by but a single point, 73 to 72. The steep-banked Deering oval proved the nemesis of our boys on February 1 when they were downed 109-41. Dubowik, with victories in the intermediate dash and hurdles, flashed for the Bulldogs. The final dual meet, held at South Portland on February 19, found the Capers coming from behind to gain the victory by a score of 89 1-2 to 60 1-2. A brilliant 600 in which Kershaw of the Capers edged Portland's Keniski, was the feature of an evening of thrills.

On March 6, the local boardpounders hit their stride when they amassed 39 1-3 points to gain an unexpected second place at the 1936 four-cornered meet.

BASEBALL SQUAD

First Row: Joseph Walsh, Gilman Skillings, Fred Cressey, Joe Lapomardo, Donald Drossel, Joseph Richio, Brud Mulkern, Bob Seymour.
Second Row: Joe Sabasteanski, Vernon Carter, Alec Trush, Joseph Castellucci, Pete Gaskill, Clarence Leves-

BASEBALL

The crack of bats, the thwack of leather hitting leather, and the whizz of baseballs through the air have ushered in the 1936 baseball season under the leadership of a new coach, James "Jim" Sibson. Sixty aspirants for nine positions reported at the Stadium April 28th with a score or so of veterans in togs. With two or three boys battling for each position the spirit ran high and promised plenty of reserve strength for the season.

Alec Trush, curved-ball hitter, and Mel D'Arcangelo gained berths as pitchers; Gil Skillings as regular catcher and Bob Seymour as alternate. The starting game saw Paul Casey at first, Drossel at second, Richio at short, and Tom Mulkern and John Moffet at third; Vance at center, Lapamardo at left, and Walsh and Castellucci at right.

Portland opened the season on Monday, April 20, with Deering, suffering a 9-4 defeat. Rallying in the next game with South Portland on April 25, Portland pulled a pretty win, closing with a 5-3 score. The following Wednesday, during vacation week, found Thornton Academy camped on our doorstep. The game ran to eleven innings before Thornton snared a heart-breaking 8-7 decision. Then on May 2, we again came into the limelight, shellacking Sanford 11-4. Wednesday, May 6, we met Westbrook, coming out on the short end of a 9-4 decision.

Portland is still in the running for the Telegram League Championship.

PREP HALL

AT BENOIT'S

Specializing in the right kind of apparel for young men in High and Prep Schools. Styled, designed and priced to exactly meet the needs and requirements of young men who want the newest in wearables at a moderate cost.

BENOIT'S

Ben Franklin was a printer, he had to get things right;
He went out for the lightning and caught it with his kite.
And we, the inky craftsmen, halt long enough to say
We do your work, good neighbors, in style like Franklin's way.

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY

DAY DIVISION

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

Offers a broad program of college subjects serving as a foundation for the understanding of modern culture, social relations, and technical achievement. The purpose of this program is to give the student a liberal and cultural education and a vocational competence which fits him to enter some specific type of useful employment.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Offers a college program with broad and thorough training in the principles of business with specialization in ACCOUNTING, BANKING AND FINANCE, or BUSINESS MANAGEMENT. Instruction is through modern methods including lectures, solution of business problems, class discussions, professional talks by business executives, and motion pictures of manufacturing processes.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Provides complete college programs in Engineering with professional courses in the fields of CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL, CHEMICAL, INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING, and ENGINEERING ADMINISTRATION. General engineering courses are pursued during the Freshman year; thus the student need not make a final decision as to the branch of Engineering in which he wishes to specialize until the beginning of the Sophomore year.

Co-operative Plan

The Co-operative Plan, which is available to the students in all courses, provides for a combination of practical industrial experience with classroom instruction. Under this plan the student is able to earn a portion of his school expenses as well as to form business contacts which prove valuable in later years.

Degrees Awarded

Bachelor of Arts — Bachelor of Science

HOW HEALTHY ARE YOU?

JOHN KENDRICK BANGS

You know the model of your Car,
You know just what its powers are.
You treat it with a deal of care,
Nor tax it more than it will bear.
But as for self — that's different;
Your mechanism may be bent,
Your carburetor gone to grass,
Your engine just a rusty mass.

Your wheels may wobble and your cogs
Be handed over to the dogs;
And you skip and skid and slide
Without a thought of things inside.
What fools, indeed, we mortals are
To lavish care upon a Car
With ne'er a bit of time to see
About our own machinery!

TODAY AND TOMORROW

Yesterday was, today is, and tomorrow will be. We have no control over yesterday—but—if we do the wise and proper thing TODAY, it will surely be reflected in our condition tomorrow—for instance is a safe and sure start towards independence tomorrow—and the future. This start, however, should be followed by further deposits as regularly as possible in order to keep the account growing.
